Would you ever do this? You cant make a robot if it's dead. It's not enough to program a robot, you need to make it live by adding his own personality. If you think that you can program a robot to do anything you want, just think again. We're not the creators of this technology and you can't program a robot. You can't program a robot to do anything you want. The more robot people in the world, the more robot life will come into existence. We will be controlled by the robot people. But who are we?
