TigoTigo

TigoTigo is a program designed to help you edit the metadata of your audio tracks. It supports several file types, including MP3, M4A, OGG, WAV, WMA and FLAC. The tool comes with a user-friendly interface where you can easily locate and process audio tracks, thanks to the Explorer-based layout. But you can also change the current directory from the 'File' menu. The file list displays the name, metadata, bit rate, duration and type of each file. So, you can edit basic tags, such as title, artist, album, year and comment. Advanced users can edit additional fields, like the composer, conductor and lyrics. Furthermore, you can view tag information by opening the context menu, change the case of the filenames, as well as get names from tags or vice versa. Moreover, you can use a search and replace function, change the files order, get tags from text documents or CUE sheets, remove tags and delete the cover files, as well as restore all settings to their default values. The program requires a moderate amount of CPU and system memory, has a good response time and contains user's guide. TigoTigo did not cause us any problems throughout our testing; the app did not freeze, crash or pop up error dialogs. First-time users may take some time to get familiarized with all the features; the tool's interface should be better organized. Also, TigoTigo does not offer support for multiple languages. ⚠ Program developed by: A.T. Software Company ⚠ TigoTago is a program developed by A.T. Software Company to use as aCelebrating life, one day at a time. Shencen (Cassandra) and Demitrius' four kids On the Thursday before Memorial Day, we celebrated both the birthdays of our youngest children. The day before Shencen's birthday, we had a big family dinner with her kids and both sets of grandparents. Afterwards we all went to the local amusement park to celebrate with flip cups, Ferris wheels and the like. I'm not sure how many hours we were actually there, but it felt like we were there all day. On the birthday itself, we stayed home. We hung around the house reading, playing games and watching movies. Demitrius and I went out to dinner with our family. The kids made a gift for him, a flower box, which was given to him as a gift from one of the kids' grandmothers. It was very cute! On the weekend, we went to our hometown for the funeral of someone I went to school with in high school and college. Demitrius and I have been best friends since we were 14 years old (though we weren't together at the time). We flew out and came home on Sunday. We had some good times there and it was nice to see all my friends again. The next weekend, the weekend of Mother's Day, we got together with another couple and the kids. The little kids went fishing, the teens watched a movie and the adults played board games. We had a great weekend. This past weekend, we met with both sets of grandparents and children and had a Mother's Day celebration. Shencen's parents came to visit so we could all get together and visit. We held the kids' birthday party the week before and Shencen's actual birthday was the week before that, on June 3. Shencen was turning two! She slept through it, but was pretty good the night before and all day. We told her that she had been born the year when people lived forever and it was pretty awesome! This past weekend was the first time we all went to Demitrius' folks' house together. They live about a half hour away from us. We got
