But seriously, who wants to talk to a lawyer! ----- erbdex All I care about is "what is expected legal terms" > Immigrant | H1B | Resident | Guest worker | Fiancé > - You are not eligible for employment in the country. > - You will not be granted entry. > - You will not be granted residency. > - You must return home before the deadline. > - You must depart the country before the deadline. ----- rhizome As someone with a different H1B situation, I always thought there was a presumption of an employer taking that little extra risk when sponsoring travel for workers who are allowed to work in the U.S. ----- exelius Yep, this is a real situation. I have friends who ended up in this situation. It's not really that bad since they could have been in the U.S. for 6 months if they needed to extend it, but I have to wonder how much of it is caused by a culture of fear and of "oh if you complain about anything we'll just revoke/extend your H1B anyway - why bother doing the paperwork for this". ~~~ erbdex I know this is a real situation. This is a real friend of mine. I have no idea what the situation is now. And I'm not even sure if she tried to get extended. It's kind of a gray area, but she has a hard time winning any judgement against her employer. Even when they took
